

Dear Public Health

My name is John Munno, I am the Assistant Manager of the wellness department at New Morning Market in Woodbury, Connecticut. In our wellness department, I am approached daily by customers seeking homeopathic practitioners to assist them, their children and loved ones with classical homeopathy. As much as I would like to refer them to a homeopath, I am not able because I know of no practicing homeopaths in our area. The laws are so restrictive in Connecticut that there are very few practicing classical homeopaths in the state.

I know if the law was changed to allow classical homeopaths to practice in the state, there would be more access to homeopaths and many of these people could be helped rather than having to suffer with their health conditions.

Homeopathy is a very effective healing method that has been used for over 200 years. It has helped me with many conditions that couldn't be helped by the standard medical and other alternative modalities that I had tried.

It is a cost effective, safe and historically proven method of healing that should be used and available for the people of Connecticut.

I am writing to ask for your support for HB 5327: An Act Concerning Health Freedom and the Practice of Homeopathy.

Thank you in advance for your support.

Sincerely,
John Munno
